Data Shredding

Data Shredding is the 100% secure way to permanently and immediately destroy data

Private information stored on hard drives, back-up storage and other media devices can be the target of information thieves.

Data that you erase, reformat, wipe or degauss can be restored. Erasing data is not 100% foolproof, no matter what the software may promise. Information thieves can restore the data you thought was destroyed.

Improper destruction could lead to a costly breach. Storing classified information, in any form, is putting you or your company at risk of a security breach and liability. A security breach can cost a business money, reputation damage and loss of business.

Why put your company at risk? Security Shredding will permanently destroy your information and keep you safe from information thieves.
